

BEST OF CES 2019

What is CES you ask? Well, it stands for Consumer Electronics Show. It's where many famous companies such as LG, Samsung and Toyota show prototypes of the products that maybe released in the distant future.

Here is the World premiere of the Mercedes-Benz CLA

CES is an iconic event for any technology fan in the world; it's been thriving with new prototypes every single year. Some are very revolutionary while others just don't make sense at all.

One example is the clapper bot...

All it is meant to do is clap and get your attention, no one knows the company that has created this nonsensical monstrosity that puts a hole in your bank account.

By Dauod 7G