SHOULD MY CHILD STUDY MUSIC?

GCSE music is a course which inspires creativity and encourages students to broaden their musical horizons. It combines the traditional and modern, offering exciting opportunities for students to study diverse and traditional fields, as well as develop an interest in all aspects of their musical heritage.

What will my child gain from music?

For students who choose music GCSE at Goldington Academy, a range of opportunities will be provided to develop instrumental skills and performance confidence through a variety of events in a range of venues. They will learn to use current technology to support their musical learning in all areas. Composing skills will be developed through collaborative group work alongside individual coaching and mentoring. Students' understanding and appreciation of diverse musical genres will be developed through access to, and investigation of, a range of live and recorded music. Their love of music will be encouraged and nurtured.

Where will music take my child?

GCSE music develops valuable, transferable skills such as self-confidence, concentration, creativity, evaluation and team work. It offers choices, catering for a wide range of interests, instruments, personalities and directions. Consequently, a number of career paths and further education options in music will be open to students. Opportunities to work with a range of music professionals throughout the course will provide an insight into various aspects of the music industry and will serve to inform students of a number of career options.
